Businesses

These businesses records were compiled from sources not easily accessible to the casual researcher. In fact every effort was made not to use information found in Census or Vidal Records. The sources used were varied and some unusual.

The book is listed as 1805 to 1955 which would be an impossible task finding all the businesses for such a large period of time. However, I do think the researcher will find this book helpful especially if the index is used to facilitate the search. The book is geared toward the person doing research on a specific town or occupation.

I would like to thank the following for their help:

John Samsky, Sara Turner, Agnes Cato, Betty Duley, Herbert Bates, Scott Parham, staffs at the Manassas Museum, Bull Run Library, Virginia State Library, and Quantico Research Center.

Disregarding this fact, we will offer for sale goods at a cheaper price than has prevailed since the Great Armistice. These goods we are offering are not cheap, shoddy merchandise, but fresh, new goods. Buying right means saving right. We have taken our time and bought at prices that have been seemingly impossible. We now ask you to take note of some of the prices quoted below on groceries, dry goods, notions, shoes, hats, ready made clothing, tires, tubes, rubber shoes, boots, leather harness, Oliver Chill and Lynchburg plows and repairs, Nesco oil stoves in all sizes, seeds, farm and garden tools, paints, glassware, pots, jars, enamelware, aluminum ware, steel ware, floor coverings, flour, meal, feeds, cakes, candies and bread. We have contracted for the Monarch canned goods line; in addition to the regular drug line we carry we are going to have the Black and White line. 1920s ad

Manassas Feed, Supply, and Implement Company - Manassas, Va., The following is from the Manassas Journal 7 Jul 1916, The Manassas Feed, Supply, and Implement Company to operator a 40 barrel a day plant. In the line of a helpful industry Manassas will very shortly have a flour mill in full operation. Last week the company placed an order for about two carloads of special machinery which will convert the major portion of the main building, the old Hopkins candy factory, into a flour mill. It is expected that the machinery will arrive within the next ten days or two weeks and it will be installed at once. B. Lynn Robertson, president of the company, in an interview said that the new mill will have a capacity of 40 barrels a day. In addition to the machinery for the manufacture of flour, new meal-grinding machinery has been ordered. Mr. Robertson is confident that the local mixing of dairy and horse feeds will result in a material reduction in the prices for these feeds. Preparatory to the installation of the flour-making machinery, all the old machinery for candy has been sold and shipped away. As an accommodation to the country trade, the company will cut a large doorway in the north side of its Battle Street building so that it will not be necessary for farmers to go around by the freight depot in order to load. When the flour mill begins operation the old Larkin building on Center Street will be used as a store room only. In the operation of the flour mill and feed mixing machinery, Mr. Robertson says that the company contemplates using town power, provided satisfactory rate can be obtained. Otherwise the mill will be operated by a large Kerosene engine of a late improved design. In a 3 Jan 1919 Manassas Journal Ad the company was advertising White Rose Flour, The Flower of Flours. with the owners listed as B. Lynn Robertson and C. M. Larkin.
