

Source - "Prince William: A Past to Preserve" by the Prince William County Historical Commission

Historic Name: Ellen's Veil

Date or Period: ca. 1790

Original Use: Residence

Vicinity: Woolsey

"Two stories high, this house has stuccoed walls and sits on a stone foundation. A composition, shingle-covered, gabled roof covers the building, which has pine and hardwood floors inside. A smaller separate slave quarters or guest house was a one-story stone building, but it was remodeled and had a frame second story added in 1975.